- Liaison with government agencies
One of the roles of the Senior Citizens Unit is to comment on policies which affect older people. To facilitate communication between government departments, the Unit hosts quarterly inter-departmental network meetings.
The Unit is also represented on the official group providing advice to the Prime Ministerial Task Force on Positive Ageing which was expected to report to the Government by 30 June 1997.
- Elder abuse and neglect
The Senior Citizens Unit is represented on the National Advisory Group overseeing the elder abuse and neglect programmes. Age Concern New Zealand, through its local Councils, has established seven elder abuse and neglect programmes. The aim of these is to prevent elder abuse and neglect of older people by implementing pre-crisis intervention strategies and to respond rapidly to incidents of elder abuse and neglect.
- Income Support Super Centres
The Senior Citizens Unit has worked closely with Income Support in the development of the Super Centre concept. There are currently 27 Super Centres operating throughout New Zealand. Most recently, the Unit has been involved in the development of a training package for Super Centre staff, focusing on the needs of older clients and addressing issues surrounding positive ageing, retirement, the diversity of the older population and the complexities of elder abuse and neglect.
- Promoting positive attitudes to ageing
The Senior Citizens Unit is involved in nationwide projects in conjunction with other agencies to promote positive attitudes to ageing among older people and the community.
- International Day of Older Persons
The Senior Citizens Unit works with other agencies and organizations to promote the nationwide celebration of the International Day of Older Persons. These events will provide the foundation for celebrating the United Nations International Year of Older Persons (1999).
- Greats and Grands Month
The Senior Citizens Unit promotes each October as Greats and Grands Month to highlight the role of grandparents and other older people who have a significant role in family life. Schools throughout New Zealand are contacted and encouraged to organize intergenerational events during the month of October. The Unit is undertaking preparatory work on the development of guidelines for inter-generational programmes.

Major activities on behalf of older persons

- Registration/survey of senior citizens (undertaken by DSWD in coordination with ESCAP to establish the socio-economic profile as well as needs assessment of the Filipino elderly)
- A National Executive Committee on Ageing attached to DSWD was created in 2000 with the function to formulate a National Plan of Action on Ageing and to serve as a liaison to the UN World Assembly on Ageing. Since that time, DSWD has been the lead agency, its task being to develop programmes, initiate and pilot special projects for demonstration, conduct program audit and evaluation, provide technical and consultative services, and set standards for licensing and accreditation of agencies, including private or public homes for older persons.

Likewise, with the two laws enacted for the benefit of senior citizens (Republic Act 7432 and Republic Act 7876), DSWD has been mandated to develop programmes and services for senior citizens and to issue the necessary regulations to implement the Acts (RA 7432, RA 7876), in coordination with other concerned agencies.

- RA 7432 (an Act passed in 1992 which main purposes are to maximize the contribution of senior citizens to nation building and to grant benefits and special privileges for older persons) grants 20% discount for older persons from all establishments relative to transportation, hotel and lodging, restaurants and recreation centers and purchase of medicines nationwide, including assistance by the government to those caring for and living with older persons in terms of tax exemption. The Act also established the office of Senior Citizens Affairs in cities and municipalities nationwide.
- RA 7876 Act establishes a Senior Citizens Center in all cities and municipalities of Philippines and the appropriation of funds therefore. The Centers are to be run by the senior citizens themselves with support from local government units and NGOs.

Activities in celebration of the Elderly Filipino Week, which falls on the first week of October as per Presidential Proclamation No. 470, are planned and carried out by the National Executive Committee on Ageing. The Secretary of DSWD chairs this committee.
